

MEGA PIXEL

PIXELATOR SAYS:
USE THICK, HEAVY CURTAINS IN YOUR HOUSE TO KEEP THE HEAT IN AND CLOSE THEM EACH NIGHT, SAVING ELECTRICITY.

TEXTING FRENZY!

Big thanks to the two Capetonians who came up with this! Fsms.co.za is a site where you can send and receive sms's for free from your computer or cellphone. That's right, no moola spent! You don't need to download any software to get started and registration is easy peasy. They even have a Facebook group (Fsms.co.za - Free South African SMS!) that has an application letting you use the service from there, how cool is that? We're definitely stoked this service came along.

NICE SKIN

Whether you're into graphic design or borrowing movies and tunes from your mate's computer, most girls need an external hard drive these days. So why not gear up with a retro designed one? Skin Portable Hard Drives are not only slick and slim, they've got custom graphics on them too, making them stand out from the rest. Easy to slip into your bag, it also comes with Drop Guard protection, so it's not going to get banged up easily. With 500GB of space to use, you can store all the poetry, graphics and flicks you want on it. Get yours from any Incredible Connection store for R1899.00.

SNAP AWAY

Coming out this month is the Sony Bloggie Touch camera, and man, are we excited. As well as being easy on the eyes and easy to carry around, the camera can also shoot films in 360 degrees panoramic and can focus on details as close as 10 centimeters. Instead of fussing with USB cables from now on, you can just flip out the attached USB arm on this beauty to connect to your computer and upload all your pics and vids onto Facebook. This camera does all the work for you, sounds nice, doesn't it?

FOR YOUR EARS

The Logitech Ultimate Ears 100 noise-isolating earphones aren't just cute and pretty to look at, they also promise to keep all noise out so that the only sound you hear is the choonage you're rocking to. With comfy silicone cushions and awesome designs, this is a sure fire way to pimp out your ear-wear this summer.

ANGRY BIRDS

Angry Birds is a new game by iTunes that's really cheap and loads of fun. The storyline follows a couple of birds bent on revenge after the green pigs take out their eggs. With 180 levels, loads of demolition as well as Facebook and Twitter integration, this game will have you hooked for hours. Go to iTunes online for more info.

WIX

Need a snazzy website to put up all your works of art, but don't have the moola or techno savvy to do so? Take a peek at Wix.com, you can make a website for free and it's super easy to use. With an easy interface with a lot of click and dragging, you'll have a website in no time. If you can handle your Facebook page easily, then you can make a Wix website.
